Re: Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern,

Standard of Excellence Education & Training Center is an outstanding organization. Standard's has been my training provider for about two years now. I am so satisfied with Rosland and her trainers. My staff enjoys her training and wouldn't recommend anyone else.

The prices are affordable, and I know my people will be on the registry. They are patient and take their time with the lesson. I really wouldn't send my people anywhere else.

Truly,

Letter of recommendation

To whom it may concern,

It is my pleasure to recommend Standard of Excellence education & Training Center to your organization. Standard's has been my training provider for about five years now. I send all of my people to them because I know they will receive a quality training. Standard's is reputable and they are on the list. Trainees receive all of the materials they are suppose to get and the training is real good.

The prices are affordable, and I know my people will be on the registry. They are patient and takes their time with the lesson. I really wouldn't send my people any where else.

Truly,

Letter of Recommendation

Building a strong network and planning for the future has allowed us to explore many relationships in the healthcare industry. And out of the vast array of members we have only one has exceeded our expectation by expanding, providing measurable metrics, and building an extensive clientele; Standard of Excellence Education and Training Center. We highly recommend Standard of Excellence Education and Training Center.

This company uses technology, old fashion face to face remedies, problem solving and to best practice to assert itself as a leader in its field.

Many hundreds of its trainees are in the workforce and many more are climbing the ladder to success through higher level goal achievement. We have used its facility to conduct orientations, screening and consultations, and provide employment options for its trainees. We are pleased to be a partner with Standard of Excellence Education & Training Center, to use its trainees and forward our mission of improving caregiver competence and acceptance.

Truly,

Mr. Anderson
