Secretary Designee Caleb Frostman 201 E. Washington Avenue, A400 Madison, WI 53707

Dear Secretary Designee Frostman:

As legislators representing communities near Eau Claire, Appleton and northern Wisconsin it has come to our attention that the Department of Workforce Development is in the process of closing down the Unemployment Insurance Appeals locations in and near our communities. If the Eau Claire and Appleton offices no longer provide in-person hearings, our constituents and businesses will be forced to travel to Madison or Milwaukee for an in-person trial. This change means our constituents would have to drive in excess of 300 miles one-way for an in-person hearing.

These hearings are important because they allow a constituent or business to be physically present to make their case before a neutral judge. An in-person hearing allows the judge to determine the demeanor and credibility of a witness or of one of the parties during a hearing, which can be a determining factor in making a successful case before a judge.

Additionally, in-person hearings are often more useful; for example, if there are many participants involved, a phone call may not be practical. If there is evidence that cannot be copied or provided to the other participants except in person, then a physical hearing is ideal. Similarly, there may be accommodations that can only be made to an individual through a physical hearing.

These closings follow a pattern of public services being concentrated in Dane and Milwaukee counties. These actions are leaving the businesses and constituents that we represent at a disadvantage just because of where they live in Wisconsin. As representatives of citizens that do not reside near Dane and Milwaukee counties, we urge the Department to reconsider the decision to close the Appleton and Eau Claire offices.

Sincerely,

nox w. Edming muj Warren Petryk

HAND DELIVERED

Dear Representatives:

Thank you for contacting me regarding the closure of leased spaces used for in-person unemployment insurance (UI) appeal hearings. As a native of northern Wisconsin, I can appreciate your concerns about residents' ability to access state services and am happy to clear up any misconceptions you may have regarding the impact this decision will have on our shared constituents. I can assure you that all claimants and employers around the state will continue to have convenient access to high-quality appeal processes, both in-person and by telephone, not requiring travel to Milwaukee or Madison.

As you have heard, the Department of Workforce Development (DWD) will not renew leases for hearing offices located in Eau Claire, Appleton, and Madison. They are slated to close in March 2020. Staff were provided the opportunity to either work remotely or relocate to DWD headquarters at GEF-1 in Madison. Staff from the Madison Hearing Office already relocated to GEF-1 last month. As a result of the three office closures, the Department will continue delivering the same quality customer service to UI claimants and employers, while also saving nearly $350,000 annually, which will be reinvested in system improvements, benefitting all stakeholders.

It is important to note that these hearing offices do not offer direct services to claimants. Assistance with unemployment insurance services will continue to be offered at local Job Centers across the state and at https://dwd.wisconsin.gov/uiben/.

The decision to close these facilities was based on several factors, including reduced federal funding and the desire to offer better customer service through increased efficiencies. Further, federal regulations do not allow states to use their UI administration grant to lease vacant space and facilities. Due to the decline in UI claims and subsequently UI appeals, coupled with the growing trend and desire of participants for more telephone hearings, these facilities now contain a large amount of vacant space that DWD is prohibited from paying for through its UI grant.

Telephone hearings are typically more convenient for the parties and are consistent with the practice of most states in our region. Currently, about 80 percent of Wisconsin's UI appeal hearings are held via telephone. Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, Ohio and Illinois currently hold over 99 percent of their UI appeal hearings over the phone, with Indiana also operating a predominately telephone-based appeal system.

Despite this trend, situations remain when in-person hearings are both appropriate and preferable. When a UI appeal in northern Wisconsin requires an in-person hearing, hearings will be held in shared space in multiple communities across the region, including in Eau Claire and the Fox Valley where the Department already leases space. The Department will continue to identify additional alternative in-person hearing locations with the assistance of local stakeholders with the intent to reduce the travel distance for those who live in rural communities across the state.

Given changes that have already been implemented, your constituents should not feel any negative impact from the closure of these hearing offices. Historically, hearing offices scheduled and processed appeals for their own offices manually. However, beginning in 2012, modernization of appeal processes and electronic processing have allowed for staff in various offices to be assigned to process work, regardless of which hearing office previously would have been assigned the case.

Offering UI hearings in more convenient locations aligns with the Department's other efforts to bring services directly to our customers, rather than expecting them to come to us. As you may know, we are expanding our job services in local libraries and community centers and have begun offering services through our mobile job center that travels around the state. We encourage the letter's authors to join us at any location or event throughout the state offering DWD services to witness firsthand the great, collaborative work our agency is doing to expand and strengthen Wisconsin's workforce.

Being from northern Wisconsin and having been in constant contact with residents, entrepreneurs, and business owners across the state since taking this role, as well as in my past roles as an economic developer and legislator, I share your commitment to ensuring ease of access to state services like appeal hearings for Unemployment Insurance claims. I look forward to continuing to work with you on providing high-quality, cost-effective workforce services to all Wisconsin residents and businesses.

Thank you for your consideration. I am hopeful that this communication has cleared up any confusion. Please do not hesitate to contact me or DWD's Legislative Liaison, John Keckhaver, with any additional questions you may have.

Sincerely,

Celleb front

2020 UI Employer Tax Rate Highlights

January 16, 2020

Employer tax rates for 2020 were mailed in October of 2019.

Wisconsin Statute §108.18(3)(m) provides for four separate rate schedules. The schedule in effect for the following year depends on the June 30th Trust Fund balance. Schedule A has the highest tax rates. The rates are progressively lower as the Trust Fund balance increases. The lowest tax rate schedule is Schedule D.

The balance of the Trust Fund on June 30, 2019 was $1.8 billion. This means that Wisconsin's employers are in Schedule D for 2020, the lowest schedule, for a third consecutive year.

Statutory Tax Schedules

- > Wisconsin has 4 separate tax rate schedules. They run from A through D, with A raising the largest amount of tax revenue and D the least.
- The schedule for a year depends on the balance of the UI Trust Fund on June 30 of the preceding tax year.

-	Tax Schedule	UI Trust Fund Amount "Trigger Amount"
2010-2015	A	Less than $300 million
2016	В	$300 to less than $900 million
2017	C	$900 million to less than $1.2 billion
2018-2020	D	At least $1.2 billion

*Payroll is the taxable payroll for the 3rd and 4th quarters of the prior year and the 1st and 2nd quarters of the year. Open, subject and taxable accounts.

- Since 2020 is the third year in Schedule D, all changes are due to employer experience rating, and are not a result of a schedule change.
- Of the "No change" employers, over 90% had a positive reserve fund balance which means they have a history of paying more taxes than benefits are being paid out on their behalf. Twenty-four percent (8,105) of the "No Change" employers were already rated at the lowest possible tax rate (zero for small employers and 0.05% for large). Another 5% remained at the maximum rate of 12%.
- For employers with 2020 rates higher than 2019, 61% (20,480) experienced less than a 1% increase in employer tax rates. Another 23% (7,865) had an increase that was limited by Wisconsin Statute §108.18 (5) which limits the increase in tax rates in a single year.

2. For each employer, the 2019 and 2020 tax rates are multiplied by their 2019 Fiscal Year Taxable Payroll. By holding payroll constant, the effect of tax rate changes can be measured. This is not a forecast or projection.

Since 2020 rates are based on the same schedule as 2019, any change in taxes is due solely to the individual employer's experience.

The green colored rows are employers with positive reserve fund balances. The reserve fund balance reflects the amount of taxes paid in comparison to the amount of benefits paid for an individual employer's account.

The gold colored rows are employers with negative reserve fund balances.

- For 2020, 95% of employers were rated based on a positive reserve fund balance.
- Note that the number of employers with a positive reserve fund (in green) increased by 3,005 employers in 2020 compared to 2019. The percentage of employers with a positive reserve fund balance has increased every year during the time period shown, and has increased every year since 2012, as employers recovered from the recession.

- There are 13,613 employers who will have a zero-tax rate for 2020. Although these employers will pay no UI taxes for 2020 payrolls, these employers are still required to file tax and wage reports. Of the zero-rated employers, 8,076 (59%) were also at the zero-tax rate for 2019.
- Likewise, the number of employers at the maximum rate of 12% has decreased from 2,475 in 2019 to 2,186 for 2020. Of those employers at the 12% rate, a little over 80% were at the maximum in 2019, and the other 20% saw a tax increase. The number of employers at tax rates of 9% and above has also declined every year since 2012.

Below is the same chart with Fiscal Year payrolls instead of counts:

*Payroll is the taxable payroll for the 3rd and 4th quarters of the prior year and the 1st and 2nd quarters of the year.

5. An individual account called the Reserve Fund Balance is maintained for each individual employer covered under Wisconsin UI law. The balance in this account is maintained for the purpose of determining the annual tax rate. The balance increases with a portion of each tax payment made and decreases with every unemployment benefit payment made to laid off workers. The taxes paid are like insurance premiums, and in the event an employer goes out of business, no money in the Reserve Fund is ever returned to the employer.

For taxable employers that are open and subject, employers with a positive reserve balance paid $569.7 million more in taxes than had benefits paid out to their former employees. Employers with a negative reserve fund balance had $119.2 million more benefits paid out to their former employees than these employers paid in basic taxes.

Cash Activity Related to Taxable Employers with WI Unemployment Rate (for all years from January to December)

STATEMENT OF SCOPE Department of Workforce Development

Rule No.: DWD 100 and 131

Relating to: Drug Testing of Unemployment Insurance Applicants

Rule Type: Permanent

Detailed Description of the Objective of the Proposed Rule

The proposed rules will amend chs. DWD 100 and 131, relating to occupational drug testing for unemployment insurance (UI) benefit applicants. The proposed rules will establish a drug testing program to require certain applicants to submit to tests for the unlawful use of controlled substances, if the applicant is determined to be an individual for whom suitable work is only available in an occupation that regularly conducts drug testing.

If the department determines the applicant's only suitable work is in an occupation that regularly conducts drug testing, the proposed rules will provide that the department must screen the applicant to determine if there is a reasonable suspicion the applicant has engaged in the unlawful use of controlled substances before requiring the applicant to submit to a drug test.

In addition, the proposed rules will provide that if an applicant for whom there is reasonable suspicion of unlawful use of controlled substances declines to submit to a drug test, or submits to a drug test, but tests positive for controlled substances without providing a valid prescription for the control substance and refuses to participate in a substance abuse program, the applicant will be ineligible for unemployment insurance benefits.

Description of Existing Policies Relevant to the Rule, New Policies Proposed to be Included in the Rule, and an Analysis of Policy Alternatives

No existing policies are related to the proposed rules. As directed by section 108.133, the proposed rules will:

- Establish a drug testing program to test applicants for regular UI benefits for the unlawful use of controlled substances.
- Identify occupations for which drug testing is regularly conducted in this state.
- Establish procedures to determine whether an applicant who applies for regular UI benefits is an individual for whom suitable work is only available in an occupation that regularly conducts drug testing.
- Create a screening process for determining whether there is a reasonable suspicion that an applicant has engaged in the unlawful use of controlled substances.
- Identify a process for testing applicants for the unlawful use of controlled substances.
- Identify the parameters for a substance abuse treatment program for applicants who engage in the unlawful use of controlled substances in order to be considered in full compliance with the requirements of the substance abuse treatment program.

- Provide that, if an applicant enrolled in a substance abuse treatment program is required to submit to additional drug tests, the applicant may have at least one more positive test, following the initial drug test, and still be considered in compliance with the substance abuse treatment program requirements.
- Identify the parameters for a jobs skills assessment for applicants who engage in the unlawful use of controlled substances and specify the criteria that an applicant must satisfy in order to be considered in full compliance with the requirements of the job skills assessment.
- Identify a period of ineligibility that must elapse or a requalification requirement that must be satisfied, or both, in order for an applicant to again qualify for benefits after becoming ineligible after the applicant declined to submit to a drug test, or the applicant submitted to the drug test, and tested positive for the use of controlled substances for which the applicant did not present evidence satisfactory to the department of possessing a valid prescription.

The policy alternative is to do nothing. If the department does not promulgate the proposed rules, the department's administrative rules will be inconsistent with statutory requirements.

Detailed explanation of statutory authority for the rule, including the statutory citation and language

Under Wis. Stat. § 108.133(2), "The department shall establish a program to test applicants for the unlawful use of controlled substances in accordance with this section and shall, under the program..."

"Promulgate rules to establish the program." Wis. Stat. § 108.133(2)(a).

"Promulgate rules identifying occupations for which drug testing is regularly conducted in this state." Wis. Stat. § 108.133(2)(am).

Estimate of amount of time that state employees will spend developing the rule and other resources necessary to develop the rule

The total amount of staff time is estimated to be approximately 200 hours.

List with description of all entities that may be affected by the proposed rule

The proposed rules may affect individuals who apply for regular UI benefits whose only suitable work is in an occupation that regularly conducts drug testing and may affect their employers.

Summary and preliminary comparison with any existing or proposed federal regulation that is intended to address the activities to be regulated by the proposed rule

Federal law permits states to, as a condition of receiving UI benefits, test unemployment insurance applicants for whom suitable work is only available in an occupation that regularly conducts drug testing for the unlawful use of controlled substances. A state may deny UI benefits to such applicants who test positive for the unlawful use of controlled substances. 42 U.S.C. § 503(1).

Federal law requires that state law conform to and comply with federal requirements. See 20 C.F.R. § 601.5.

Anticipated economic impact of implementing the rule (note if the rule is likely to have an economic impact on small businesses)

The anticipated economic impact of the proposed rules on businesses, including small businesses, is indeterminate.
